Eligibility

Applicant:

The New Haven Pride Center will accept exhibition proposals from LGBTQ+ :

- Individuals or artist collectives
- Independent curators
- Nonprofit organizations
- Public or private K-12 schools, colleges, universities as well associated teacher and student groups

Artwork:

- A minimum of ten (10) large pieces of art or twelve to fifteen (12-15) mid-sized and small pieces of art are required to be eligible for a solo exhibition.
- The gallery spaces are conducive to 2-dimensional artwork or 3-dimensional artwork that can hang on a wall. All paintings, prints, drawings, photographs, and other artwork must be suitably framed and able to be hung safely with pins, tacks, nails and/or clips.
- 3-dimensional sculpture or other works can be included in exhibitions but may not be able to be on display at all times out of safety of the work.
- Artists should submit original work that has not been shown before, a mixture of past and new pieces can be included in solo exhibition proposals. Photographs, prints of any kind (Giclee, lithographs, etchings and computer-generated art) should be signed and numbered as a limited edition.
- Our galleries are not equipped with electronic equipment for multi-media exhibitions at this time.
- Applicants whose proposals are accepted are required to work the Center's staff to complete the installation and de-installation of all artwork and will organize a time for installation at a mutually convenient time with Center staff.
- Restrictions: Because the Center's gallery spaces have limited space, framed work exceeding 60 x 60 inches or 100 pounds will not be accepted. Wall art must be properly wired for museum hanging. Work that cannot be properly displayed out of safety of patrons and the artwork itself may be rejected from being in an exhibition.

Selling of Artwork / Commission:

- Applicants whose proposals are accepted and who are interested in selling their artwork, must leave appropriate information to be able to sell the work
- Artwork that is sold must remain on display for the duration of the exhibit.
- The New Haven Pride Center asks that artists donate a minimum of 10% of any sales to support the Center's programming and operations, as well as gallery maintenance.
